

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A golf club head, comprising:

5 a metallic head housing having a face, a sole, a rear, a toe and a heel, wherein the head housing is hollow and is open at a top thereof, and a nonmetallic crown coupled to the top of the head housing, wherein the crown has two arms coupled to the toe and the heel of the head housing respectively.

10

2. The golf club head as defined in claim 1, wherein the head housing has two gaps respectively at the toe and the heel to be shielded by the arms of the crown respectively and the gaps are extended from tops of the toe and the heel respectively and downwardly to where adjacent to the sole.

15

3. The golf club head as defined in claim 1, wherein the head housing has two gaps respectively at the toe and the heel to be shielded by the arms of the crown respectively and the gaps are extended from tops of the toe and the heel respectively
and downwardly to where adjacent to the sole.

20

4. The golf club head as defined in claim 1, wherein the head housing is provided with at least a hole at the rear thereof and the crown has a tail to be coupled with the rear of the head housing and to shield the hole thereof.